

MILITARY SCIENCE (ROTC)

Military Science is contained within the Interdisciplinary Studies department and is administered by Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps (AROTC) on a cross-enrolled basis with Florida Institute of Technology. These courses prepare qualified students for service to the nation as Army officers. Army ROTC three-year and two-year scholarships are available to qualified applicants (both those already enrolled in the AROTC Program and those not yet enrolled) through annual merit.
