

LATE CLASS ADDITIONS

A request to add a class after the published last day to add is by appeal only, with approval of the instructor and department chair. After the fee due date is passed, student is responsible for payment for the course on the day of registration.

Student should be made aware that:

- Financial aid may be impacted.
- They are responsible for meeting instructor requirements for all classes.
- Adding a class late, even during add/drop, does not preclude students from completing assignments and attendance required beginning the first day of class.
- They are financially liable for all courses appearing on their schedule beyond the last day to drop.